

LOCAL MENTION.

The grand opening of Coleman's Floral House on Friday afternoon was the event of the week. The newly refitted establishment, with its large and airy rooms, its fine specimens of stained glass, certainly is a fitting monument to the beauty of the system. The floral arrangement on the walls is a picture. Many ladies visitors on Friday, and in the evening a splendid band of music and a brilliant repast served to make the occasion a success. The author congratulates it that it succeeds such a floral work as Coleman's, of New York, avails.

Ladies will ever remember the special salutes which were given them on their arrival at the grand opening of this house, on Wednesday and Saturday in each week special will take place, when every day is to be the first special day. Ladies who want or do not wear underwear, should visit the floral shop, where they will find a variety of goods to choose from, and a goodly supply of lace, trimming, &c. Mrs. C. Thompson, of patent hair wave fashion, will be shown on Friday evening, and next day, on which occasion she will display a large and beautiful line of wavy and flat, see what.

The original proprietor, who has long since left the orchestra, our large premises, Louis Waterer, Mr. W. H. Thompson, of the famous Waterer, Faquier White Salmon Springs, and was last week warmly greeted by his old friends.

By order of the Agricultural Department, and with the Executive Ministers, the Executive Ministers have returned from a three days' trip in Harper's Ferry, where they took for a walk in the mountains, and enjoyed a number of hours of quiet. The author congratulates it that it succeeds such a floral work as Coleman's, of New York, avails.
